

Greens Report 2021

The year 2020 ended with a flood two weeks before Christmas which impacted the holiday period games of golf. Added to that the first 140 days of 2021 there were 70 days of rain, so not a great start to the year.

Through this time Brian Cox and his team maintained the course to a very high standard considering the conditions. Thank you and well done.

Also completed this year was the 6th green renovation which has been a great success. Taking out almost a metre of slope from the front to rear and providing a fairer putting surface.

There was also the reshaping of the 7th fairway once again to deliver a fair test of golf for everyone.

Throughout the year there were concrete paths installed, bunker renovations which are a part of ongoing improvements as time and finance permits. Course drainage also on the agenda. So, look forward to these improvements as time goes on.

Last but not least a big thank you to all the volunteers who help out when required, after flood clean ups ect. Especially Ted Selwood (maintenance of distance markers) and Bill Quantrill (gardens both on the course and around the clubhouse).

So, in closing this report I would like to urge all golfing members to fill in divots and repair pitch markers. This will help everyone to enjoy the game we love.

Thank you
